ALL AROUND THE HUB.

SUMMER GOODS.
The most unprecedented cold snap weather in June has had a very depressing effect on many branches of business, which must be felt very seriously even should we have hot days and nights during July and August. Straw hats and all the things that are sold in the summer months have been little seen upon our streets, and when seen have seemed almost as much out of place and out of season as they would in January. Railroad and steamboat men are beginning to despair of a rush of travel as there has been nothing so far this summer in the weather to tempt people to visit either the seashore or the mountains. Probably there never were so great preparations made by everyone in any way caterers for the pleasure and the comfort of summer travelers, but it seems now as if those who have invested in summer goods in summer resorts are destined to considerable disappointment.

OUR SCHOOLS.
The long vacation of our schools now extends through most of the month of July and all of the month of August. Could every child attending them have the privilege of spending the vacation in the country, the absence from school during two of the summer months would be a great blessing, and the children would return to their studies in September more willing and more able to learn. But, unfortunately, a vast majority of the pupils of our schools are the children of parents who cannot afford to send them out of the city for even a small portion of the eight weeks of vacation, and it is rather doubtful if no children derive much benefit from the long vacation. One thing is very certain, vacation time to many a woman with a large family of children is the hardest time in the year, and such mothers are glad to see the departure of summer. Of late years, through the efforts of some philanthropic individuals in Boston, many of the children of the poor do get, once during the summer, a glimpse of the country. We are not old enough to believe that boys and girls would grow up stronger and wiser, both physically and mentally, if about fifty per cent. of the money spent in our schools were reserved for a fund to furnish pleasant homes in the country for the children during the summer vacation. Nearly all the teachers in our public schools leave the city during the long vacation; they find their need change, and gain rest and strength by it. We do not begrudge them any of their recreation, but we do pity those of their scholars to whom the summer brings only idleness.

SUNDAY PAPERS.
Nothing marks the change in public sentiment in regard to the strict observance of Sabbath more than the increase in the number of Sunday newspapers and the demand there is for them. We can remember the time when it was considered by some really sinful to get off a paper on Monday, because that must necessitate work being done before the hours of the Sabbath were past. For a great many years the Saturday Evening Gazette was the nearest approach to an improvement in the paper for several years after its publication was commenced that the paper was even distributed to subscribers on Sunday morning. When the proprietors of the Boston Herald announced that they would publish a Sunday edition, there were a great many who prophesied that the undertaking would be a very expensive one; now there are many who say that papers published on Sunday, and we have reason to believe they are very profitable. The war stimulated the desire for news; people, even some strictly religious ones, could not wait from Saturday night until Monday morning for information of successes or reverses to our armies, and now a great portion of our population would as soon think of going to bed without the home and brown bread on Sunday mornings as without their Sunday newspaper.

ADVERTISING.
Some persons are to be found even in this enlightened age who firmly believe that by the generality of readers of a newspaper the advertising columns receive very little attention; we think indeed that the people do not realize how sure anything advertised in the paper is to the eyes of those interested in such an advertisement. We recently heard a good story which illustrates this point, and is all the better because it is strictly true. A gentleman conversing with an editor made the remark that he did not believe he had ever sold enough goods on account of having advertised to pay for the cost of advertising, and added, "If I should take up a whole page in your paper with the biggest type, I might hear from it, but no one reads the columns of small advertisements." "I will tell you," replied the editor, "five dollars and a good dinner, that I will put an advertisement of less than half a dozen lines for you in the remotest corner of my paper-to-morrow morning, set it in the smallest type we ever use on the paper, and that you will have more than one reply to it before noon." "I'll take that bet," said the unbeliever in the power of the press. The next morning he called on his friend the editor, and said to him, "You forget our bet—I don't find any advertisement of mine in the paper." Before noon the gentleman rushed into the newspaper office and exclaimed, "Over people found your confounded notice? I don't want any dog, but my wife just sent word that more than twenty people have been to my house to-day each with a dog to sell. Take that advertisement out of your next edition, for if you don't, I will have more than a dozen times as many dogs to sell as I did not find it in the paper, my wife will go crazy answering rings of our door-bell. I would rather have the best dozen times than to have that notice in another paper."

A local paper, let him or the proprietor make some trifling error in a notice. Some years ago we were connected with a paper in which appeared a notice of some entertainment to which the price of tickets was 50 cents. By a blunder of the compositor and our carelessness in reading the proof, the price was printed 60 cents. We felt like congratulating the one who gave that notice, and we have no doubt that the error was an advantage to him, for in less than two hours after the paper was issued about two hundred people had asked, "What is the price of those tickets?" Oh, yes, the people do read the advertisements, and if you don't want to leave people know about your business, in fact if you prefer to do but little business, be careful to keep your name out of the newspaper.

A SHARP REPORT.
Twenty-five years ago Robert Morris, the first known lawyer, is believed, in fact was known as a shrewd, sharp fellow and well looked up on the law. We were on a jury, Mr. Cooley, one of the smartest lawyers who ever held the position in Boston, was district attorney and "Bob Morris" as he was universally called by others of the profession, was counsel for the defendant. The government, seemingly, a strong case, and Mr. Cooley conducted it well, but he proved no match for Morris, who was a rouser on a cross-examination, quick, severe and—as is a lawyer's privilege—impertinent. He tore the testimony of the government witness all to pieces, made but little effort for his client, knowing that the witness for him would be usefully ridiculed by the government's attorney and won the case.

As we were standing afterwards in the lobby of the court room, a lawyer named Bradley—a large, fine looking, well educated person, individual, walked up to the young colored lawyer and patting him on the back, said: "Morris, you're a smart little fellow; if I had your mind I could sell you for two thousand dollars."

"Yes," said Morris, seemingly not at all hurt by the remark. "Well, then, the difference between you and me, if I had you out South, I couldn't sell you for a red cent."

He came like a flash, and created a laugh in which no one joined more heartily than did Mr. Bradley.

LOCAL TOPICS.

The Weymouth A. S. Society.
Present their full announcement this week of the features of the Grand Entertainment to be given at the Park on the afternoon of July 4th, and the special attention of our residents is invited to the programme. The committee on horses, of which Mr. J. Wilkins is an efficient member, have secured a good number of horses of note for the races, there being twelve entries, and the premiums offered are sufficient to bring out some lively trotting.

A new and interesting addition to the programme is the sale of bicycles. Bicycles are the favorite of the bicycle race, with premiums sufficient to induce our wheelmen to trot out their machines and take a competitive spin over the track, which has been put in excellent order for their accommodation. The large number of bicycles on hand has impressed the committee on rural sports with the conviction that there will be a good turnout of the bicyclists, and the exhibition of their skill in this line will be well worth witnessing by all.

A foot race of one-half mile dash, open to all, also announced, and out of the numerous amateur runners resident in this vicinity there will not doubt be a sufficient number present to make the race an exciting incident of the entertainment.

The Society has made a worthy effort to furnish our residents with an opportunity to enjoy a home entertainment on the 4th, and it is hoped that a large number of our people will manifest their interest in the welfare of the Society by being present at the Park.

Call at Wymouth's, and get your 4th of July Cakes—Figs, Caps, Pistols, and other articles.

SOUTH WEYMOUTH.
The South High School Exhibition takes place this (Friday) evening, in the Rev. Mr. J. A. Fogg and his sister, Mrs. Jennie Poole, have had an attack of diphtheria in a mild form, and it is hoped that they will soon recover.

Mr. Morrill was obliged to postpone the examination of her school on account of non-attendance.

Dea. John S. Cobb passed away at 12:15 A. M. Thursday morning. He remained speechless, not being able to utter one word after he was taken.

Considerable excitement has existed here this week arising from a severe case of diphtheria, many fearing the contagion may spread through the community.

The horse-sheds at the Congl' church were hired by the Parish Committee last Monday evening, at $3 each for one year, and sold at auction to the whole amounting to $11.20.

Calvin Howland, of Stoughton, has contracted to paint the Congl' church at Weymouth. He has a son, who paints the spire and gilds the vane without staining.

R. T. Powers has charge of the Park Stables and has eight horses in training. He is ready to break, drive and gait horses on reasonable terms.

A rehearsal by the 2d Congl' Choir takes place Saturday evening, and a full attendance is desired.

Again the silent tread of a funeral procession passed down Pleasant St. at an early hour last Tuesday morning, bearing the remains of little Johnny, the only remaining son of Mr. J. A. Fogg. Notwithstanding the rumors that he was getting better, they were all groundless, as he died on Monday evening, at 10 o'clock.

A few nights since a lady who resides in this village was awakened from her midnight slumbers by a sound resembling the rattling of a hammer, and she called out to her husband and inquired who was there, when he replied, "It is me, my dear, but he was too tired to go and the lady lives alone."

The work of construction of the new schoolhouse on Broad street has been commenced by the contractors, Messrs. Ellis & Hurley, of Newton, and from the plan of the architect we infer that it will be a fine building.

Mr. George W. Whittem, of East Weymouth, has taken the contract for supplying the heating apparatus, and will put in two large plate iron furnaces, of large capacity.

Remember the Temperance Demonstration at Silver Lake, next Monday, July 4. The grand entertainment and other pleasant attractions should not fail to secure a large gathering. See advertisement on next page for particulars.

Notes by the Way.
On Tuesday evening the Rt. Hon. John Foster gave rehearsal his oration, which he is to deliver at the meeting of the Temperance Union on the morning of the 4th. As it will be impossible for the most rapid shorthand writers to take notes, editors and reporters of local newspapers can have a copy by making application to the "Honorable" editor.

Mr. T. T. Clark, of the Boston Herald, is to be the guest of the Weymouth A. S. Society, and will deliver a lecture on the 4th of July, at the Park.

Mr. Auburn Sterling is building a large addition to his factory.

Bicycles are all the rage now, the prizes offered to the best riders at the Park on the 4th having probably been an inducement for many to purchase steeds of this kind. One new rider on Front St. was out last Monday evening for practice, and was riding smoothly along as he came, but on turning the corner into Broad St. he fell, and the bicycle and rider were both injured.

Geo. Rand's horse ran Front St. on Friday last, and had the misfortune, in turning in at the gate to bring the carriage in contact with a post, which smashed them generally.

EAST WEYMOUTH.
The Methodist church was well filled last evening, by a gathering of people from all parts of the town, assembled to listen to the exercises of the graduating class of the North High School, which those who are capable of judging pronounce to be fully equal to those of any former occasion.

The exercises of the graduating class of the North High School were held last evening, at 7 o'clock, with singing and sermon appropriate to the day.

THE ELABORATE LIGHT.

Mysterious flashes of light, far-reaching and brilliant, from the direction of the harbor, over the city and against the most lofty buildings, and again down along the water in one direction or another, excited no little comment on a recent night. The startling illuminations were simply the result of experiments with the electric light in a new direction. It is believed by certain scientific gentlemen in the city, chief among whom is this matter in R. S. Jennings, that eventually electric illumination may be made more valuable in deep water investigations.

The theory has not been practically demonstrated, for the experimentations is as yet in its infancy; but it is thought that, under proper conditions, the electric light may be applied to a still more light upon the bottom of a body of water, even though the depth be 100 to 200 feet. To test the question, a Brush electric light machine was mounted on a scow, with an eight-horse-power engine to run it, and the light was employed to view the bottom of the harbor.

The results were not fully satisfactory, owing to the roughness of the water, but the trip was a most interesting one, and the power of the electric light was strikingly manifested.

A movable parabolic reflector was used at the back of the light, which was again and again thrown upon vessels from two to two and a half miles distant, bringing them out in clear view, and the electric light was used to illuminate a glass. When the light was thrown upon the dome of the city hall, it leaped out of the darkness and stood up against the dark sky as if suspended in mid-air.

One of the curious features of this part of the display was that to persons in the city, the light appeared to be coming from the water, and the vessels passing at this time between the light and the city hall dome, were distinctly portrayed against the white background. It may well be imagined that a sensation was created by this phenomenon, which is believed, the electric light may be applied to a still more light upon the bottom of a body of water, even though the depth be 100 to 200 feet. To test the question, a Brush electric light machine was mounted on a scow, with an eight-horse-power

Liquor Seizure.

Last Friday afternoon officers Whiton, Cook, Spring, Rich, Gardner and Tower started on an excursion to pay their respects to the various dealers in the ardent. They first made their appearance on the premises of John Wall on Hobart St., where an inspection resulted in their finding 108 bottles of lager beer and 1 gallon of rum, which they seized. Next they tramped in squads; officers Spring and Gardner first visited Mathias Greigs', finding 2 qts. whiskey, 3 galls. rum, 1 qt. brandy and 2 bottles beer. Officers Cook and Tower visited Herbert Tully's saloon, where they seized 20 galls. ale, 37 bot- tles beer, 1 gall. rum, 1 gall. whiskey, 1 qt. gin. While these officers were performing the task allotted them in this quarter, officers Whiton and Rich drove round by the wharves, making a call upon Bryan Ward, taking 15 galls. ale, 80 galls. cider, and one gall. rum. Monday afternoon they again donned the habiliments of war and called upon Francis Overton on South St., and seized 1 small barrel of ale and 1 case of beer. The parties will be called upon to step up to the judicial office and make their obeisance before Judge Keith on Friday next.

District Court.

In this court on Friday last, before Judge Keith, E. W. Lavette, who keeps the Wayside Cafe at Nantasket Beach, was complained of by officer John Smith for exposing intoxicating liquors for sale without requisite authority, and being adjudged guilty was fined fifty dollars and costs, from which decision he appealed and gave bonds in the sum of $400 to appear at Plymouth at the October term of the Superior Court.

Fire.

About 2 1/2 o'clock Monday morning an alarm was sounded, giving notice to the inhabitants of this staid old town that the fire fiend was again doing his utmost to destroy property. This time it broke out in the barn connected with the residence of John C. Fearing, at the corner of Main and High Sts., South Hingham. The fire department were soon upon the scene, but before their arrival the flames had communicated with the house, and the sparks lighting upon the roof of the house of Walter John Dunn ignited, but were extinguished after a slight scorching. The barn was entirely consumed, together with ten tons of hay and some farming utensils, but the horses were got out. The house was considerably damaged, the loss being about $600. Insured in the Hingham Mutual Office. Incendi- arism was the cause without doubt.

Runaways, etc.

Within the last ten days we have had a long chapter of accidents to Hingham people while riding. The first one we have to record, however, was to some people from Weymouth, a week ago last Sunday evening, whose names we did not learn, who drove against a post on Fort Hill St., near the West Hing- ham station, the result of which was a badly broken carriage.

Last week Wednesday evening a gentleman and his wife who reside in Hing- ham were run away with on the road in Quincy near the Atlantic station. Their horse became frightened by the approach of two trains in opposite di- rections as they were on the bridge over the track, and ran, striking a light ex- press wagon containing a gentleman who resides in Roxbury, but who is passing the summer at Quincy. The high fore wheel of the Hingham team was entirely demolished by the collision and the lady was thrown violently to the ground, escaping, however, with some sprains and bruises. It was a wonder she was not killed or very seri- ously injured. Her husband was not hurt at all, but the Roxbury gentleman was thrown out of his wagon, his face was severely bruised and he was badly shaken up. Those who ran against his wagon kindly sent for a doctor to attend him, and having been conveyed to Quin- cy, returned to Hingham in the last train.

On Saturday Dr. J. H. Robbins, while riding at Nantasket, was run into by some careless person and his carriage was considerably the worse for the col- lision.

Sunday evening a man in the employ of David Cushing 2d, was driving up the Old Colony House hill, when his horse was run into by the shaft of a ve- hicle coming in the opposite direction. The shaft entered the chest of Mr. Cushing's horse—a handsome and valu- able animal. Its driver endeavored to get it home, but it fell dead near Mr. Cushing's house on North St. We have not been able to ascertain who is blamed for the collision.

Last week Thursday evening a horse owned by James F. Clement started from in front of the store of John D. Gates, dashed across Thaxter's bridge, and brought up against a tree in front of the residence of Charles A. South- worth, on South St. The wagon was decidedly used up, and the horse, which was driven by Chas. Johnson—a colored man—broke a bone in its shoulder. We are told, however, that the injury will not necessitate the killing of the animal. It became frightened by seeing a bicy- cle.

On Saturday evening as Daniel Bas- sett was riding on South, near Hersey St., his horse was frightened by the noise of the engine of the train due at quarter past six. It dashed against the fence in front of the house of Mrs. Eli- jah Lincoln, breaking the fence, but doing no further injury. Mr. Bassett was fortunate to get off with so little damage.

The same evening about an hour later, as Mr. Joshua Salisbury was riding with Fred Reed from East Weymouth, the horse was frightened by the noise of an approaching train, and turning suddenly upset the buggy, throwing both gentlemen out, and then attempt- ed to jump over the fence in front of O. H. P. Stoddard's house on Fort Hill St., very near where the first accident we have recorded occurred. Mr. Salis- bury was considerably bruised and it was thought at first one of his arms was broken. He was conveyed to his home and attended by Dr. Fay, who pro- nounced his limbs all whole, but he re- ceived a terrible jolt to his whole system.

While Dr. Robbins of the Centre, was driving on the road, near the Pa- villion, Nantasket Beach, last Friday, he was run into by the driver of the Fairy Queen, cramping one of his wheels, besides doing other damage to the buggy. As the road is very wide at this point there is plenty of room to turn out for a passing team.

In conclusion we will say that while we have never known so many riding accidents in the same space of time, it is very remarkable that so little injury was done to persons in either case.

Gene up.

Hingham's mercantile marine has died out. A few weeks since Mr. At- kinson Nye sold the last schooner owned in Hingham, and we have now to write that the Escent, our old Hingham packet, the last link that bound us to the good old times when Hingham was a port of a good deal of consequence, has been stripped of her sails, in the middle of summer. The steamboat takes all the freight and now Hingham has only a few small pleasure crafts, whereas the time has been when she could boast of a mercantile marine of over fifty vessels. In this particular the glory of our old town has departed never to return.

Farewell Party.

Last Monday evening about two hundred ladies and gentlemen assem- bled at Loring Hall, the occasion being complimentary to Mr. Morris F. Whiton, who left yesterday on the steamer Pe- ruvian for a pleasure trip of about two months in Europe. The party was a very brilliant one; the music by Ed- mand's Band was of course all that could be desired. A fine collation was served, and the occasion which must have been very gratifying to Mr. Whiton, will long be pleasantly remembered by him and by those of his friends who were so fortunate as to be present.

The Grand Square Society of Hing- ham Centre, made their annual excu- sion to Nantasket Beach last Friday.

Sad News.

The wife of Mr. George H. Waters, who has been quite ill of late, died very suddenly at her residence on Ship street last Wednesday.

SOITUATE.

The Fair which is to be given at the Town Hall, at the Centre, by the G. W. Perry Post, G. A. R., will be opened on Tuesday evening, August 9th, with an address by Gov. Long, of Hingham, and the North Scituate Brass Band will furnish music for the occasion.

Smart.

Hon. Samuel A. Turner, formerly a Custom House Officer of this port, and who is 89 years old, walked from his daughter's residence to the harbor last week, a distance of three miles. Pretty good for an old gentleman.

Medical.

The Plymouth Medical Association met at the South Shore House last week, and held a very interesting meeting. Interesting papers were read upon the following subjects, by the following physicians: "Septesmia," Dr. Hager, of Marshfield; "Diphtheria," Dr. Has- tings, of South Abington; "Secondary Hemorrhage," Dr. Vinal, of Scituate; after which they partook of a first-class dinner gotten up in an artistic manner by the proprietor of the house, Mr. J. T. Clements.

Arrivals.

The following parties registered at the South Shore House last week: J. Richardson, Hingham; Dr. B. F. Has- tings, A. A. McKeen, South Abington; Dr. N. P. Brownell, South Scituate; M. E. Whitney, Rockland; J. E. Jos- lyn, C. P. Hissell, Joseph Jenkins, H. T. Winslow, West Hanson.

Rev. Canon G. K. Knowles, of the Chicago Episcopal Cathedral, paid a visit to the Hon. George Lunt of this village.

The Egyptian stage has been toned up with a fresh coat of paint.

Concert.

The vocal and instrumental concert which was given at Union Hall, last Friday evening, was very thinly attend- ed. Mr. Bernard Covert, an aged gen- tleman in his seventy-sixth year, sang several pieces in his usual style, among which were "The Second of Hunker Hill," "Old Ironsides," "The Ivy Green," and other selections. Prof. John Hill played several violin solos, among which were "Home, Sweet Home," with variations, "Organ Imitations," playing three and four parts at the same time on the violin, and other selection which were well received by those who were present.

Struck.

During the severe storm on Thursday afternoon of last week, the lightning struck a vine in a cherry tree near the residence of Peleg Lyland, damaging it considerably.

Suspicious.

It is well-known that there has been considerable excitement in this vicinity of late caused by the numerous attempts of burglary and no clue to the perpetra- tors. On Wednesday a two boys were strolling through the woods they discovered three strange and suspicious looking men. Feeling that all was not right they immediately notified their father of the discovery who in turn in- formed officer Nott. In company with officer Young, he visited the place, and tent and occupants had mysteriously dis- appeared. This causes suspicion very naturally to turn toward these strangers as perpetrators of these outrageous pro- ceedings.

Beach Brevities.

Mr. D. T. Ide, photographer, of Paw- tucket, R. I., was at the beach last week taking several views along the shore, among which are the Centennial House, private residences, etc., etc.

A yacht party from Beverly Farms came into this port last week.

Mr. Geo. C. Lee has been fitting up his saloon in a neat and tasty manner, and he is now having a pretty fair trade.

The ice cream saloon of Watson & Co., is now known as the "Minot Down by the Sea." They intend to put up soon a neat and tasty sign bearing the name of the saloon.

The Centennial and the Mitchell Houses are being well patronized. The next two months will be the best months for receiving hosts of guests, as many of those who work in shop and factory will then take their vacation.

NANTASKET.

The following were the arrivals last week at the hotels on the beach: At- lantic House—Stephen Ellis, Miss Hat- tie Ellis, Braintree. Straits Pond House—B. C. Bradford, J. E. Torrey, N. M. Varney, H. H. Hallet and wife, H. P. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. J. Crowell, Sam- uel V. Thompson, W. G. Marland, Wm. R. Washburn, Rockland; Alonzo Cleverly, A. B. Swett, W. L. Beal, No. Weymouth.

A rowing club has been formed at Lake Nantasket, to be known as the Bellevues. The following names are the members: Capt. Fred McDowell; No. 2, Sprague Goddard; Stroke, Chas. A. Lindsay; Coxswain, B. G. Mead. The children's party at the Atlantic House will be held sometime this week.

Epitaph.

An interesting day was spent at the Centre House July 14, by the first Uni- versalist Teacher's Association, in which they not only enjoyed their annual day of pleasure and recreation, but cele- brated the birthday of their host with whom they had met annually nearly all the time for twenty-five years. The dining hall was beautifully decorated on the occasion. Wm. Marble, a member of the Association, kindly furnishing the decorations. After dinner Mr. Mar- ble made a few remarks pertinent to the occasion and offered the following resolutions, which were copied and pre- sented to Mr. Loring:

Resolved, That we congratulate him on his near approach to three-score years and ten; that we rejoice that an allying Providence has thus lengthened out a life made useful to his fellow-citizens by the dispensing of good cheer on nu- merous occasions like the present.

Resolved, That in Hotel Centre cen- ter the hopes of all his friends that he and they shall often meet under this hospitable roof, and that Loring and Sprague shall for years to come continue to dispense their well known hospitality to their numerous patrons.

The Season.

At the Beach is not yet as good as expected at the commencement of the season. The cause for this is undoubt- edly the cool weather which has thus far generally prevailed, but the week past has caused a large increase in the number of visitors, the railroad prov- ing a great attraction to many and is well patronized. A large number seem to centre at Hotel Nantasket whilst many other houses are well patronized, espe- cially the Atlantic, Rockland, Sea Foam, Pemberton.

Time Tables.

Went into operation this week upon the Nantasket Beach Railroad calcu- lated to connect with all trains on the South Shore branch of the Old Colony Railroad. Access is thus given from either end of the road to all parts of the beach. It is expected that this will call a large travel by rail to the beach, and report has it that excursions are soon to be announced all along the Old Colony Railroad, the truth of which we have not been able to ascertain.

Upset.

On Sunday, the 17th inst., a squall came up and a party in attempting to land near the Maverick House had their boat upset and the party were precipi- tated into the water. They were found to hail from North Abington. The pro- prietor kindly allowed them today them- selves by his fire, after which they pro- ceeded on their way homeward.

Arrested.

Officer M. M. Miller discovered one afternoon not long since a man with a roll of blankets under his arm stepping on board the boat. Thinking things looked suspicious he accosted the man, who accounted for himself by saying that two ladies requested him to take the bundle on board for them, but an investigation failed to discover anything of the kind and officer Miller placed him under arrest, and afterwards found that the blankets were the property of Mr. O'Connor of the Vine Cafe. He was compelled to pay his respects to Judge Keith, who dealt out justice in no meas- ured terms.

HULL.

The first German was given at the Oregon House, Hull, last Wednesday evening.

The body of an unknown man was found in the water at Hull pier. He is supposed to be a Scotchman and a type founder.

Gen. S. C. Lawrence, who is stopping at the Pemberton Hotel, Hull, will go yachting to the Isles of Shoals after the first of August.

Four large silver cups, three with the handles knocked off, belonging to the Methodist Society of this village, have lately been found in possession of one of the old families. They were part of an old communion set, the other pieces of which had long disappeared. They bear respectively the following inscrip- tions: "The gift of Thomas Colyer, to the Church of Hull, 1720." "The gift of Mather Loring to ye Church in Hull 1724." "This belongs to the Church of Christ in Hull 1824." The cups are to be repaired and again put into pos- session of the Society.

The Nantasket Beach Railroad Com- pany have built a number of well-fitted landing rafts for the accommodation of yachts at this point. Hitherto yachts- men have not had landing privileges here, and the new regulations, together with the musical and other attractions offered at Hotel Pemberton, have at- tracted an immense fleet of all kinds of crafts, that thickly line the shore for miles.

COHASSET.

Thunder Storm.

The severe storm of hail, rain, thun- der and lightning on Thursday week, did considerable damage in this village. The lightning struck the brass ball on top of the mast of a yacht owned by Dr. John Bryant, passing down the guy through the bottom of the boat into the water. While Mr. Charles Bourne, of the firm of Bourne & Nickerson, butchers, was standing behind his cart at one of his customer's houses, cutting a piece of meat, the same flash struck one of the hind wheels, knocking all the spokes out of the wheel and prostrating Mr. B. to the ground, also unbalancing the wagon, causing the horse to start off with the forward wheels. We also learn that Mrs. Edward Tilden received a severe shock to her system, and at last account was unable to tell anything about it. Several other persons in the neighborhood were more or less affected by the electric fluid.

Mr. C. H. Allen has commenced to make improvements on his building, which he has leased.

Mr. D. Renshaw has received a pa- tent for utilizing exhaust steam.

Arrivals.

The following were the arrivals at Smith's Hotel last week: Lawrence Davis, Wm. Laurouard and wife, Wm. Hayes, A. S. Brown, S. B. Roberts, E. Williams, Walter L. Gardner, Samuel Willis, E. G. Marroon, L. J. Campbell, C. R. Draper, Joseph Colby, Boston; John Mason, Weymouth; John Davis, Quincy; A. Bradford, South Boston; T. A. Chase and wife, Hyde Park; Hen- ry L. Griffin, Charles C. Lewis, North- ampton; T. H. Vanbrunt, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Manoet Boderiguer, Serpe Teo, West Indies; Wm. Gallup, So. Royal- ston; Wm. J. Peters, Belleville, N. Y.; Wm. A. Hind, C. H. Young, New York; O. M. Baker, Springfield; Gen. W. R. Thorn, Marshfield Centre; A. P. Fitch, Concord, N. H.

BEECHWOOD.

Mr. Daniel Arnold of this village, while at work in the shoe factory of M. C. Dizer & Co., at East Weymouth, last week cutting a piece of board, the knife slipped, cutting a vein in his left leg. Dr. Fay was called and attended to the injured man, after which he was taken to his home and has been ever since under the care of Dr. Pratt, of Cohasset, and is doing as well as can be expected.

An attempt was made by some party or parties to enter the residence of Mr. A. B. Litchfield, last Friday eve- ning, but were frightened away by the dogs of Mr. Hosea U. Woods.

BRINTREE

Mr. Editor:—The citizens of Brintree congratulate themselves at the weekly receipt of the clear, concise and unbiased report of the "happenings" of every day life. The reports, free from stilt and insinuation, were many a long letter to absent friends, which would otherwise have to be written. We are glad to see the circulation constantly increasing—your judicious management of a delicate trust deserves it. "Go on."

AN OBSCURE ONE.

Wednesday of last week dawned most beautiful for an excursion day, and one would not be surprised to find on the streets of Brintree a large number of persons, on account of intense heat, the sun being clouded in so that it did not beat with force upon the heads of those exposed to its solar rays. It being the day of the Methodist society of South and East Brintree for a united trip to Downer Landing, the faces of the children beamed with delight as they looked out in the morning upon the anticipated enjoyment which was before them. Whilst children of older growth felt happy in the thought that Providence was smiling upon their efforts for a day of pleasant recreation and happiness. About eight o'clock Baker appeared with a large number of parties, numbering about two hundred, to that beautiful and pleasant resort, Downer Landing, which had been selected as the point of attraction. The parties from the various points met at Quincy and proceeded the remainder of the way in company, having a pleasant and enjoyable ride. Arriving at their destination, they at once entered upon the enjoyment of the day, occasion and surroundings, nothing occurring to mar the harmony and unanimity of the occasion. Old and young vied with each other in seeing which could derive the most benefit from the day and accommodations the place affords, and it was hard telling which party was the most pleased and happy. After a day spent in the most enjoyable way possible for mortal man, the party viewed their homeward way through the beautiful towns and villages of Hingham, East Weymouth and Weymouth Landing, arriving there some time before dark, and feeling that they had had a most enjoyable day, and that they were well rewarded for the pains and anxiety of a life of labor. Many many were granted all they wished for.

The First Congregational society of Brintree had also selected this as the day for their annual trip to Nantasket. A large number availed themselves of the opportunity to take a day in which to recuperate their wasted energies. Some went by rail and many by boat, while others went with their private teams. A pleasant and enjoyable time was the result, many being sorry when the day closed and they were obliged to seek their homes.

The meeting of Weymouth Lodge No. 817, K. of H., of Quincy, was somewhat varied from its usual character last Friday evening, by the reception of a request from their lady friends that they might be permitted to attend and witness the ceremony of installing officers for the ensuing term. The members being mostly married men, and consequently knowing by sad experience the penalty of not complying with the wishes of the ladies, unanimously granted their request, and inasmuch as they had taken the trouble to go, they were not to be disappointed. Arriving at the hall it was at once put in order for work, and the members had no sooner been called to order than the ladies appeared in force to the number of about 75. They at once took seats with the exception of three, who afterwards appeared, had been chosen a committee to carry out the programme of the evening. The ladies then proceeded to the centre of the room. They advanced in a body, and were met by the installing officers, who were seated at the head of the hall.
